Clay's Notes

This "Emergent Caddis Pupa" pattern is a slenderized version of the "Lafontaine" standard. This one is a more "imitative" pattern. It incorporates Antron yarn and CDC. Two magical materials when applied to your fly tying. The antron will trap air and glistens in the water. The CDC gives life-like appearance. This fly when fished as a trailer behind a more buoyant caddis dry fly pattern can really produce in a hatch.
