

Harrop's Biot Parachute March Brown

Class: Mayfly Dry
Matches: March Brown Duns
Originator: Rene Harrop
Source: Solitude Flies Retailers
Or Yellowstone Anglers

Clay's Notes

A parachute pattern works well in the flats and tailouts where trout are feeding on March Brown Emergers and Duns. This is a good one. The March Brown Biot Parachute gives an accurate replication of a mayfly dun, with excellent flotation and visibility. Mottled turkey flat duplicates the intricate pattern of natural wings. This pattern works great as a point fly with a march Brown Flymph or a March Brown Soft hackle trailing behind it. When fishing the March Brown hatch you need to present your flies downstream and feed them to the rising fish. Feed them down and then swing the flies to the side.

I've got a row of these in my "Harrop's Box". This is a pattern that I would put into a March Brown Specialty "Match the Hatch" Box.

For information on Guiding, Classes, Workshops & Technique Clinics, Contact Clay Hash

www.FlyFishingTraditions.com

ClayHash.fft@gmail.com