

Morrish's Anato-May

Class:	Mayfly Nymph
Matches:	Pale Morning Dun (PMD) Nymphs and "Crawler" type nymphs
Originator:	Ken Morrish
Source:	See Tying Recipe

Clay's Notes

Whether used as a searching pattern, or trying to imitate clinger/crawler mayfly nymphs, Ken Morrish's Anato-May has become one of my "Go-To" nymphs in Northern California. I use the Hare's Ear version for Epeorus and PMD nymphs

Morrish's Anato-May Recipe (Hare's Ear Anato-May Example)

Hook:	1xl nymph/wet hook Size 8-20
Thread:	6/0 or 8/b black
Head:	Black Cyclops Bead
Tails:	3 pheasant tail fibers
Ribbing:	Copper wire
Abdomen:	Hare's Ear Dubbing
Thorax:	Hare's Ear Dubbing
Back and Wingcase:	10-12 Black Krystal Flash Fibers
Legs:	Black Krystal Flash

For information on Guiding, Classes, Workshops & Technique Clinics, Contact Clay Hash

